Utility Rates Going Up

Water, sewer, and garbage rates will go up in Cameron on October 1, following action by the city council in a meeting which was called for a budget hearing.

Minimum for water of 3,000 gallons will go from $2.25 to $3.25; and will go up to 60 cents per thousand over 3,000; a $10 minimum from 30,000 to 45,000 gallons.

Sewer rates will go from a $1.25 minimum to $2.50 per month and the $3 charge for garbage pickup will go to $4. Business garbage pickup will be increased 25 percent across the board.

Water connections will rise from a $40 charge for a 3/4 inch connection to $75; $40 charge for a 4 inch sewer connection to $75; and the $50 charge for a one inch water connection to $100.

Cemetery lots are raised from $50 to $100 per space.

Cameron Mayor Lawrence Zotz cited inflation as the prime reason for raising rates in the city.

At Tuesday's council meeting, councilmen adopted a budget of $581,487.73 for 1976-77. The budget includes a 5 percent salary increase for city employees. Department heads will receive a 5 percent salary increase in October and another 5 percent increase in six months. Added to the budget are the water department total of $137,000 and sewer of $56,048.

Drainage projects came in for discussion with A. W. McCullin of the Community Development Agency pointing out progress on drainage in the Green Addition, which is being paid for by CDA funds. McCullin explained that the project is part of the agency's second year program and showed maps of water flows and problems encountered in installing the storm drainage.

Council tabled action on granting a mobile home permit at 608 N. Bowie. Councilman Lincoln Mondrik said he wants to check out the location before the permit is granted.

McCullin also reported on the Youth Exposition Building fund drive which gets underway Sept. 13. He said the Young Farmers have scheduled a tractor pull on Oct. 23, 24, and 25 to benefit the building fund drive.

Council voted to join the Central Texas Economic Development District in order to be eligible to purchase surplus equipment from the Department of War. McCullin said the city will be able to buy a variety of equipment at a fraction of the cost.

Sid Duderstadt appeared before the council and asked about paving Country Club Drive. He said the money has been put up for a number of years but no paving has been done. Council agreed that the money for paving should be placed in a separate account and not put in the general fund.

Councilman Gene Lumpkin said the city should not do any paving until the checks have cleared the bank, as some people might decide to stop payment on their check.

Bids for the paving will be called for the next meeting or in October.

Council tabled action on purchasing an air conditoner for the library. Cost of a new one is $1,100 and cost of repairs to the present system would be $800.

It was agreed that the telephone company should lay cable in Green Addition, before streets are paved and Mayor Zotz was authorized to consult with Southwestern Bell.

Expendable supplies for the ambulance service will be purchased through the Civil Defense organization in San Antonio, saving money for the city.

SIGN. . .

Ma Bell has filed for an 18 percent increase in rates in intra-state Texas service while average service rate increased in towns like Cameron is well below that figure.

Southwest Bell has also announced a plan to spend $1.3 million in Cameron for more than a half-million feet of new underground cable, pulling out 1,450 telephone poles.

We get the idea the telephone company favors smaller towns over cities. Hardest hit in the proposed Cameron restructuring would be business phones with $14.50 to $16.95 per phone per month.

One-party residence is $7 to $7.25. Pay phone calls would increase to 20 cents.

Bell premises requests on the fact that payroll alone in 500 Texas exchanges has increased more than $200 million since 1971.

The request is before the Texas Utility Commission, which probably will put it in limbo while the various cities and towns respond. Each city council now is spared the ordeal of having to figure out the basis of rate increases requests on an old complex formula of local and long-distance service.

Green Thumb workers are painting the interior walls, ceilings, and fixtures of the first floor of the Milam Museum, opening October 9.

The Museum needs all the help available for objects, cases to put them in, materials for consideration for inclusion. Money wouldn't hurt either.

117-117-117

Things will soon be countywide on the final half funding of the Youth Exposition Building, that 18,000 square foot building scheduled later on the downtown site opposite City Hall.

It is a 12,000 foot hall with concrete floor and facilities, and a 6,000 foot wing with dirt floor for livestock and similar show uses.

117-117-117-

Work is underway on facilities at O. J. Thomas Park, near OJT midschool, including two tennis courts, two basketball courts, and two baseball diamonds.

A community building there is already in operation serving meals, among other services for people in the area.

117-117-117

Another 20 new residents are listed in Cameron City Hall records during August, an average which seems to be holding almost the year round now. Assuming family size of 3 to 3.5, this could mean Cameron is gaining population at the rate of almost 1,000 a year. Plans for expanded city limits, new housing starts are indeed in order.

117-117-117

Another specialty restaurant has opened here, making two in about two months.

A downtown theatre would be nice, though possibly an extravagance by today's costs. But we hear movies are booming again.

It's nice to see all this. Some 10 years ago, there was a proliferation of new service stations and remodelings. These other convenience and fast-service outlets are beginning to find a ready market in county-seat Cameron.

Like we have said, the outreach from the new downtown has already exceeded the enormous downtown improvement, but would never happened without the downtown first being redone.

These other things seem easy by comparison.

Poage Reports House Failure To Take Action On Estate Tax

Rep. W. R. Poage reports that the House failed to take action on the reduction of the estate tax, even though it has been working late each night.

"As I have heretofore pointed out," Poage said, "this does not relate simply to farmers and ranchers, but they are probably more vitally affected than any other group because of the tremendous inflation in land values."

The Ways and Means Committee brought a bill before the House which would have doubled the present exemption from inheritance taxes, Poage said.

"Actually, the value of estates consisting of land is about four or five times what it was at the time this exemption was originally approved, but this feature of the bill would have helped had the Committee not added another amendment," Poage reported.

The amendment would have required the heirs or other beneficiaries to ultimately pay a capital gains tax on the entire increase in value from the time the land was acquired by the ancestor to the time the heir sells it.

This would mean that if a farm worth $30 an acre at the time the father purchased it--say in 1938--is now worth $300 an acre, the heir would have to pay a capital gains tax on $270 an acre.

"Obviously, many Congressmen want to break up our existing farms and ranches--and that is exactly what I want to avoid," Poage said.

He reported that the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee called the whole matter back when he saw that he might lose. "I am still hopeful that the measure will come before the House and that this objectionable provision can be deleted," Poage said.

Widespread Bafflement Exists On Carter's Foreign Policies

By Peter gregson

WASHINGTON Reuter--"Tell me," a Chinese diplomat asked a reporter recently, "What effect do you think Mr. Carter's election will have on foreign policy?"-

"Tell me, do you find Jimmy Carter knows a lot about foreign policy, or do you find him on virgin soil?" a reporter asked the Democratic candidate's chief foreign affairs adviser, Columbia University Professor Zbigniew Brezezinski.

The questions reflect the widespread bafflement about what the odds on favorite to be the next president knows or cares about world affairs and what impact his election would have on international issues.

The Democratic Party platform, which largely represents Carter's views, gives an indication of the directions he will take. Carter, however, said in a recent interview that no president can completely accept a platform drawn up by his party before he was elected.

Each issue, and its possible consequences, would have to be examined in the context of the situation existing at that time and then decided on the merits," he said.

"Many things depend on how the world develops. . . I can't commit myself ahead of time," he said.

This is not to say that the man who has attacked the Ford Administration for "unparalleled incompetence" in its foreign policy does not have some definite ideas on policy.

He favors gradual withdrawl of U. S. troops from South Korea, expanded ties with China (and a consequent reduction of relations with Taiwan and the continuation of detente with the Soviet Union with emphasis on concluding the SALT II arms control agreement, a lessening of U. S. arms sales abroad, and firmer action to limit the proliferation of nuclear weapons.

He also favors closer liaison with Europe and Japan and feels it is imperative to improve relations with the developing nations of the Third World.

All this does not change much the status quo of U. S. foreign policy during the past few years. The indications are there will be no immediate radical changes if Carter does win the election, more a change in emphasis than direction.

An important thing to be borne in mind about Carter, in the opinion of several political analyists here, is his thoroughness and caution. He has done his homework during the two-year campaign for the White House and is well-briefed on all the issues.

This caution, it is further argued, can be expected to extend into his conduc t of foreign policy should he be elected. The analysts also note that--so far--he has not got himself into anything that he cannot easily get out of it appears advisable to do so.

Most probably, such advice will come chiefly from Professor Brzezinski, a one-time Harvard colleague of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger.

He is being touted as a latter day Kissinger, the next meteor to burst upon the international diplomatic scene.

But Jimmy Carter is not the tpe of person who would give his secretary of state a free rein to shape and carry out such a large chunk of U. S. policy in the personal, independent style that has marked Dr. Kissinger's time in office--a style criticized by Carter as "Lone Ranger" diplomacy.

Most observers think Professor Brzezinski will probably take the role of national security advisor at the beginning of a Carter administration, as Dr. Kissinger did when he came to Washington to work for President Nixon in 1969.

Among persons being mentioned as a possible secretary of state, the most frequently cited is Cyrus Vance, a 59-year-old New York lawyer who was deputy defense secretary from 1964 to 1967 and one of the U. S. negotiators at the Paris Peace Conference on Vietnam in 1968-69.

Such a combination, with Professor Brzezinski taking the advisory position and an experienced hand such as Vance the more practical job of running the State Department, would reinforce indications that Carter intends to play a close, personal role in the shaping and execution of foreign policy.

Kitchen Shower Set For Center At OJT Park

A kitchen shower for the new Community Action Center at O. J. Thomas Park is planned for Saturday, to try and supply the kitchen before meals for senior citizens start on Sept. 20.

Items should be taken to the Center between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Needed are cooking range, gas or electric; refrigerator, deep freeze, pots and pans, mixing bowls, plates, cups, cutlery, and kitchen knives.

If you have something to donate and cannot take it to the center, call Mrs. Vivian McIntyre at 697-6689 and it will be picked up.

Beginning Sept. 20, a hot noon meal will be prepared and served at the center to those 60 years old or older. Persons who wish to eat a meal are asked to call and make a reservation at least two days in advance. If the 40-meal quota is filled, persons must wait until there is an opening.

The hot meals program is sponsored by the Hill Country Community Action Association and is not a welfare program. Citizens are asked to contribute towards costs of the meals.

3-Car Mishap Injures One

A three-vehicle accident at 8:30 p.m. Saturday damaged two cars extensively and inflicted slight damage to a third. Driver of one of the cars was admitted to a local hospital for observation.

The accident "chain" started when a car driven by James Lester of Cameron struck a parked car in the 600 block of East Tenth. The car, owned by Ronald Bryan, in turn struck another parked car belonging to Mrs. Jerry Schiller.

Heavy damage was reported to the Lester and Bryan cars with minor damage to the Schiller vehicle.

Lester was taken to St. Edward Hospital for treatment of a head injury.

Inspector Urges Weed Cleanup On City Lots

Homeowners and property owners in Cameron are being urged to clean up their places of weeds and rubbish in order to comply with one of the city's ordinances.

E. A. Bigbee, city code inspector, said his office is sending out letters to offenders and the use of citations would be a last resort.

"We don't want to issue citations that might lea d to a fine," Bigbee said, "but if people don't comply with the ordinance, we will be forced to issue the citations."

Bigbee said the weeds and rubbish present fire hazards to homes in the city and should be cleaned up.

The ordinance provides for a fine of up to $50 for those who are found guilty of the offense in city court.

The "weed ordinance" states that it is unlawful for any owner, lessee, occupant, or any person in charge of any premises to allow weeds to grow upon the premises, or trash or rubbish to accumulate to such an extent as is reasonably calculated to create a fire hazard or become injurious to the health.

The ordinance provides for the Chief of Police to order the weeds or rubbish removed within 10 days from the date of notice.

"Failure to cut weeds and remove trash and rubbish or to do either of them when notified to do so, as set out in this ordinance by a fine in any sum not exceeding $50 and each day that such nuisance shall continue after the time for abatement as herein set out shall constitute a separate offense," the ordinance states.

Loan Approved For Buckholts Sewer Project

U. S. Rep. W. R. Poage announced Friday that a $351,000 loan to allow the City of Buckholts to install the city's first sewer collection and treatment system has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration of the Department of Agriculture.

The funds also will be used to improve the existing water system. A total of 176 households will benefit from the combined improvement project.

Voters in Buckholts gave their approval for converting from a septic tank and cesspool system to a sewage system last February when they approved a $320,000 bond issue.

By eliminating the use of the septic tanks and cesspools the health danger that is presented from the untreated sewage will be eliminated, Poage said.

Buckholts Mayor Richard Crowe said it would take 45 days before final construction specifications for the new sewage system would be completed and submitted for approval to the FHA office in Temple.

Luck? Or Insight?

We ask your indulgence to reread an editorial in the Herald of March 25.

And then we ask you to check the date of the axing death of two U. S. Army officers by North Korean troops at the DMZ north of Panmunjom. In case you forget, it was August 18.

Was it luck? Or insight?

There was a military alert, a demonstration of U. S. air, naval, and ground strength around Korea. The North Koreans apologized, not too well in most Western opinions.

The March 25 editorial follows:

A 'Who?' Alert By August?. .

One response to critics of detente came Monday in Dallas when Secretary of State Henry Kissinger said the U. S. will not tolerate any more Cuban ploys like Angola.

Kissinger left no doubt the response to any other Castro adventures would be material and direct. This assurance comes in light of Angolan takeover in Africa and sensitive, queasy negotiations between the U. S. and Panama over the future status of the Panama Canal.

The State Department in effect put public statements on Canal Zone negotiations under wraps late last week. The President said in the White House that negotiations would protect the national interest in Panama as well as conditions there during the Johnson and Nixon Administrations.

Dr. Kissinger left little doubt in his Dallas address the time is here to balance negotiation with material response to other incursions against our interests.

It would seem Secretary of Defense Rumsfeld and Fidel Castro are being heard beyond the reports of Middle East diplomatic successes. And perhaps Ronald Reagan's unexpected primary win in North Carolina is equally penetrating.

Dr. Kissinger is moving right from Russian detente even while Russian support is pulled from Egypt. Mainland China, the third of the three-point plane, apparently applauds.

We are uncertain about "the who," but somebody, some pawn somewhere amidst Moscow, Peking, and Washington may create a U. S. military alert by late August.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor'

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the government is going to build the biggest windmill in the history of mankind, with blades spanning 200 feet on the tower 140 feet high, to see how much electricity we can get from the wind. It'l 1 cost $7 million and, if the wind doesn't die too often, is supposed to generate enough electricity for 500 homes.

I have given this considerable thought and have run into a few stumbling blocks. For instance, the interest on $7 million at 7% is $490-000 a year, which comes to $980 per home if the windmill supplies 500, before any charge for electricity is added on. Whatever your electric bill is now, just add that on costs for the rig, such as axle grease to keep the giant mill from squeaking and thus avoiding a noise-pollution lawsuit by the environmentalists. And also it doesn't allow anything for the repayment of the $7 million, although with government loans that's sometimes not necessary.

But I was just thinking, the average windmill with an 8-foot blade span like ranchers use to pump water costs about $1,000. I don't know how much electricity one would generate, but say you tripled its size. That ought to produce enough electricity for one home, if you live in a windy part of the country. So say one electricity-generating windmill per home cost $3,000. For $7 million you could get 2,300 such windmills, taking care of 2,3000 homes, as against 500 the government's plan anticipates, assuming the occupants don't keep their TV sets on over 14 hours a day. Anything beyond that seems foolish.

So let's say the wind is the answer to the energy problem. Right now I want to announce that I have filed a claim in Washington for sole ownership of all the wind that blows in the country. The company will be known as General Wind, Incorporated, and while I have no notion a meter can be developed to measure the amount of wind blowing through a windmill's blades, there certainly is one you can put oh the other side to measure the amount of electricity coming out.

Stock in this company will be limited to people who have well-established reputations as blow-hards. The board of directors will consist mostly of Congressmen.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Commission To Study Rate Request

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has asked the new Public Utilities Commission to approve a rate increase that would cost consumers about $300 million a year.

PUC may act within five months, a member indicated.

More than $110 million of the requested increase would come from increases in local service.

Rates, under the proposal, would go up from $9.20 to $11.50 monthly in Houston, from $8.20 to $10 in Dallas, from $8 to $9.45 in Fort Worth and from $7.35 to $9.45 in San Antonio.

Other proposed increases: Corpus Christi, $6.90-$8.50; McAllen, $7.05-$8.15; Amarillo, $5.85-$8.50; Lubbock, $5.90-$8.50;

Business telephone rates also would increase sharply. Five to six dollar a month hikes would be common. The increase for business lines in Lubbock and Amarillo would be about nine dollars.

Bell seeks another $8.1 million in additional revenue from a 20-cents per call charge in pay telephones, where a dime now does the job.

The company also wants more money for key telephones, private branch exchanges, Centrex service, private lines, WATS service, miscellaneous equipment, touchtone phones and other items.

Bell's new vice president for Texas, Doyle E. Rogers, said the increases would boost the company's return (after taxes) on fair value of its investment from 6.16 per cent to 9.5 per cent.

Action by Atty. Gen. John Hill last year scaled down a long distance rate hike from $40 million to $25 million.

Bell now proposes to charge customers for information calls on telephone numbers if they make more than three such calls a month. Revenue increase from this alone would be $26.5 million in Texas.

Bond Fight Launched

A new group has formed to fight the $400 million state water bond issue to be voted on November 2.

John Henry Faulk of Madisonville, humorist and broadcaster, is chairman of the group, "Citizens Against Water Taxes."

Faulk at a news conference here charged proponents of the bonds would seek to revive the $3.5 billion Texas water plan which was defeated in 1969. He also noted that Texas Water Development Board has spent only $201 million of an earlier $400 million bond issue.

Chairmanship Row Heats

Both Democratic and Republican parties now have blistering contests for their state chairmanships.

Incumbent Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest is opposed by John Henry Tatum of Lufkin, the Angelina County chairman. Tatum blasts Guest as a do-nothing chairman who doesn't aid Democratic candidates and hasn't made full disclosure of party finance records.

Guests defends his record, boasts of cutting the party's deficit from $150,000 to $110,000, encouraging increased participation by all segments and emphasizes he has filed regular audit reports on Democratic contributions and spending.

Ray Barnhart of Pasadena, leader of Texas Ronald Reagan forces, is challenging Ray Hutchison of Dallas for Republican chairman.

Barnhart said he is a friend of Hutchison but feels the chairmanship should be decided on the basis of which candidate can "best build our party and mobilize strong support for our candidates."

Republicans will decide their contest at the GOP state convention here September 11 and the Democrats will settle theirs in Fort Worth September 18.

AG Opinion

City investigation findings on equal employment opportunity complaints are public information, Atty. Gen. Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A city regulating utility rates can require companies to furnish information on profits and losses outside municipal boundaries.

Teaching assistants at public universities must be members of the teacher retirement system if classified as fulltime, regular salaries (as are most who work half the standard work load).

Texas Commission on Alcoholism has no authority to certify persons as "alcoholism counselors" or to require private corporations to follow its standards for such certificatio..

Welfare Pay Cut

Welfare payments in Texas were reduced nearly 13 per cent during the last year, according to studies released in Washington.

Expenditures nationwide jumped about 11 per cent during the same period (April 1975-March 1976).

Statistics indicated welfare recipients decreased 12.5 per cent in Texas, while the national figure was increasing about two-tenths of one per cent.

Major cost program for Texas in April was $10.8 million a month for aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) with 348,803 beneficiaries.

Only Georgia and Maine had larger percentage payment reductions (21 per cent and 13 per cent respectively).

Maine cut its caseload 23.5 per cent and Georgia 21 per cent, compared with the 12.5 per cent Texas reduction.

Jobs Announced

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has been selected chairman of the 17-state Southern Governors' Conference for the coming year.

James A. Lynaugh will succeed the late Charles Behrens as assistant state comptroller for funds management.

Joe L. Armstrong has joined gas utilities division of the Railroad Commission as an engineering technician.

State Rep. Bob Davis of Irving will chair the temporary committee on platform and resolutions for the GOP state convention.

Short Snorts

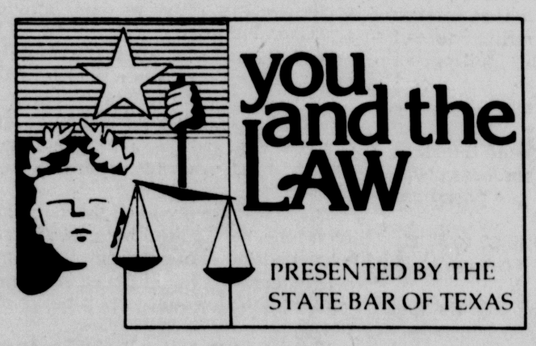
Texas' new Public Utilities Commission assumed full regulatory powers September 1 and announced utilities already have paid $5.4 million in regulatory assessments.

The cotton plow-up deadline for Cameron, Starr, Willacy and Hidalgo counties has been extended to September 15.

Texas Welfare Department is moving ahead with plans to buy a $17 million computer system from Sperry-Univac.

The Joint Advisory Committee on Governmental Operations recommended new limits on admission to state mental hospitals.

Reducing student loans to colleges with high default rates met criticism at a hearing here.



Q: I've been living with a man for three years. We have one child. He has two children living with us. If he should die without leaving a will, would I have to go to court to claim his Social Security, and the house we are buying?

A: Any claim by a common law widow concerning Social Security benefits would depend on whether she could prove to the Social Security Administration that the common law marriage met the law's requirements. The rights of two people buying a house depend on many factors, including whether there is a valid common law marriage or whether the property was bought by them jointly as tenants-in-common. If the home is the family homestead, and if the common law marriage is valid, the widow has a community 1/2 interest in the property and the right to remain in the house for her lifetime, so long as the mortgage or other debt on the property is paid. If there was no valid common law marriage and the property was purchased by them jointly, she would own 1/2 as a tenant-in-common.

Q: Before my husband and I recently separated, he asked me to sign a blank income tax return; I refused. I told him I would sign a completed form, but the deadline has passed and I haven't received it. Could he have filed the return without my signature?

A: The Internal Revenue Service cannot process a joint tax return with only one signature. You should contact IRS to learn whether a joint return has been filed in your name. If it has been filed, IRS will explain how to correct the situation. If no return has been filed, you should file a return to avoid penalties for failure to file.

Q: My mortgage company recently increased my monthly house payment $8 per month. The company said the increase was for "future insurance needs." However, I am purchasing the homeowners insurance policy myself — it is not being purchased by the mortgage company. Is there any way I can prevent this increase?

A: Mortgage companies are not regulated by any state or federal agency, as to their use of escrow funds. Therefore, there is no administrative procedure available to challenge a mortgage company's increase in your monthly payment.

Q: While my son is away from home without permission, am I legally responsible for any damage he causes?

A: Parents are responsible for the malicious and willful distruction of the property of others by their child until that child is 18 years old. The amount of responsibility is limited to $5,000 for each act of willful destruction.

Send your questions to "You and the Law," State Bar of Texas, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, 78711. Answers may appear in columns in hypothetical terms; personal answers not possible.

Q: Is it possible to have my child support payments reduced? Would I need an attorney for this procedure? Can you tell me the legal fee involved?

A: The court which granted your divorce and initially set the child support payments can revise the amount of the child support payments at the request of either parent. The procedure involves the filing of motions in court, and an attorney usually is required to prepare these motions and present them to the court. The amount of the fee would depend on whether your former wife wishes to contest your request and the amount of time involved in preparing and presenting information to the court to justify your request.

Q: Is there any way we can be released from responsibility for our 17-year-old son?

A: Unless you bring suit to terminate the parent-child relationship, and a managing conservator is appointed by the district court to act as a guardian for the child, there are only two possible instances in which you may be released from the responsibilities of being a parent. The first would occur if your son gets married, in which case he would have the rights of an adult. The second would be to file suit asking a district judge to give your son the legal rights of an adult.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

YOUCAN'T FIGHT CITY HALL

Rep. W. S. Broomfield (Mich.) " . . .'You can't fight city hall,' expresses the helplessness, frustration, and alienation many Americans feel when confronted by the immensity of the Federal government. This attitude has kept Americans from enforcing and defending their legal rights from an ever-encroaching government, and it has allowed injustices to continue.

"When a person, company, or state feels wronged by the federal government, he must decide whether he can afford the court costs and whether the returns will merit the effort.

"The unfortunate reality is that a person in this situation usually decides that he cannot affort it. It is not worth the effort because the federal government, comparatively, has unlimited resources and a battery of lawyers on its side. In this acquienscence, injustice prevails.

"I have today introduced a bill (H.R. 15098) that would, if passed, adjust this resource imbalance and make it financially possible to take legimate cases against the federal government to court.

"The bill would require that a person, company, or state that successfully ligates against the Federal Government in civil cases or agency hearings, or is acquitted in a criminal proceeding, be awarded legal fees and other costs necessary in preparing the case.

"This bill will not encourage bogus claims against the government to be filed since the person must win in order to qualify for the return of legal fees and costs. It will encourage, however, those with legimate grievances against the actions of the government to seek redress.

"The federal government is the most powerful and most pervasive institution in our society today. . .This situation puts the citizen who has to go to court against the government in the ironic position of supporting, through taxes, the legal expenses of the adversary. . .

"The wealthy and the large corporations have the resources to fight the government. The poor usually qualify for free legal aid or supplied with a court appointed attorney. The American in the middle class is the only one who is required to expend virtually all his assets in order to finance a defense. . ."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Too many suits against the federal government are decided by the federal government, on the basis of "Heads I win, tails you lose." H. R. 15098 would tend to even the odds.

Asthma Victims Can Be Helped

"Asthma" is the leading cause of school absenteeism. Parents can do a lot for asthmatic children to help them attend school and pursue other normal activities, the Texas Medical Association says.

Proper dagnosis and treatment is a first important step in asthma treatment. Some respiratory conditions have similar symptoms but different causes and treatments than true asthma does.

Asthma, characterized by gasping, choking, and gulping for air in severe attacks, is caused by an allergen. Allergens can be almost anything--foods, furs, feathers, pollens--that cause an allergic reaction. A physician can give tests to tell which substances trigger such reactions.

If a person has asthmatic tendencies, an emotional disturbance or bacterial infection of the throat, nose, or sinuses may touch off an asthma attack.

Another important factor to consider with an asthmatic person is exercise. More than 90 percent of asthmatic children can be fully involved in normal physical activity in school, leisure time, or athletics. Physical training actually improves asthmatics' health in many cases. Yet asthma can be fatal or make someone an invalid in a minority of cases. A doctor can give the best advice about physical exercise for a particular person.

Preventing asthma attacks can be relatively simple in many cases. Once troublesome allergens are identified a person can either avoid them or take medication to control the condition. Parents and victims also can learn to spot the early symptoms of an asthma attack and work to prevent it.

Occasionally an asthma patient will be helped by a change of climate but doctors advise proceeding cautiously before making a long distance move. A person may develop a new allergy to things in the new climate. Staying a year or more in a new locale is the best way to determine if relocating permanently would be helpful.

Campaign Opens For Hall Of Fame

The State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association of Texas announced today that they are launching a $2 million campaign for the purpose of raising mone y to build an archives and hall of fame in the State of Texas.

The campaign chairman is a veteran fireman, Chief Blondy Rucker of Killeen. The State Firemen's and Fire Marshals' Association is celebrating its 100 years of service this year in Texas. In 1896, a beautiful monument was unveiled on the state capitol grounds in Austin, in honor of the volunteer firemen who died in the line of duty.

The board of directors of the Association, in a recent meeting at College Station, decided that the time has come to preserve many of the outstanding pieces of eqiupment and documents. The men of the firefighting force of Texas should be honored with a hall of fame, plus a living library of the training of firefighters and fire protection.

The site of the archives is to be determined by the site committee. Contributions are being sought from business, industry, foundations, as well as individuals. There are 16 divisions of the Association in Texas involving more than 800 fire departments. All gifts are tax deductible.

Headquarters of the Association is located at 1212 Guadalupe in Austin. Campaign telephone is 512-478-3068.

Comptroller Analyzes Federal Aid

Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday an analysis done by his office shows that federal aid to Texas state and local governments has more than tripled since 1966, but Texans still get back only 82¢ out of every $1 they pay in income taxes that are appropriated to federal aid programs.

Bullock said the analysis lists 41 other states that get better returns on their income tax dollars.

"The reasons we have a lower return," said Bullock, "are that we have a relatively low state and local tax effort, we have less unemployment than the national average and because Texas has a tradition of independence from federal programs."

However, he pointed out, Texas state government alone has already received $1.5 billion in federal funds during the first ten months of the current fiscal year--representing about 30 percent of all state revenues.

The analysis of federal aid is part of the Comptroller's June financial statement.

The monthly financial statement shows that June's expenditures of $403.5 million brought state expenditures through the first ten months of fiscal 1976 to more than $5.3 billion, 17 percent higher than during the same period in fiscal 1975.

State revenues, meanwhile, also total $5.3 billion through June, $660 million more than during the same period in fiscal 1975, an increase of 11 percent.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The
TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
John C. White, Commissioner

Gobblers Galore . . . Broilers, Too . . . Harvesting Rolls Along

Texas turkey producers are joining with those throughout the nation to produce what is expected to be a record crop this year.

A seven per cent increase in the state is expected this year to bring production to 9,300,000 birds. This compares with 8,845,000 turkeys produced last year.

All the increase will occur in heavy breeds.

Nationwide, there will be 137,900,000 turkeys produced this year. This is 11 per cent above last year, and is four per cent above the previous high of 132,200,000 raised in 1973.

Texas was fourth in the nation last year in turkey production. McLennan County was first in the state with 884,000 birds; that is 10 per cent of the state's total production. Other top turkey producing counties were Mason, Bell, Gonzales, Gillespie, Hill, Leon, Brown, San Saba, and DeWitt.

BROILER CHICK HATCHINGS in the state during July showed a 23 per cent increase above a year ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes. This figure, however, is six per cent less than the previous month.

Texas was seventh last year in the nation in total broiler production.

Nacogdoches County was the state's leader. Other top counties were Gonzales, Shelby, Panola, Sabine, San Augustine, Upshur, Camp, Cass, and Kleberg.

IN EGG PRODUCTION, a three per cent reduction was noted in the state in July compared to a year ago. There were 9,700,000 layers. Texas is ninth in the nation in egg production. Gonzales County was the top area in the state, producing 15 per cent of the state's total. Other top egg producing counties included Shelby, Fayette, Denton, Camp, Nacogdoches, Caldwell, Brazos, Garza, and Lavaca.

CROP HARVESTING throughout the state continues at a steady clip. Rice harvest is nearly complete; grain sorghum is about half finished; corn harvest is more than a fourth completed. Cotton and peanut harvesting are only about 10 per cent complete statewide.

Hot weather is hurting the soybean crop in the state. Rice yields are reported good and a second crop also is promising.

Corn production will set another record in the state with an expected 110 bushels per acre yield.

Cotton harvesting is moving into the Blacklands with many fields already defoliated. Yields are expected to be about average.

COMMERCIAL VEGETABLE HARVEST is also active. Harvest of peas, watermelons, okra, and cantaloupe is moving along while, at the same time, preparation for fall planting is underway in East Texas.

Dry conditions slowed growth of early fall vegetables in North Texas. Some fall plantings of bell peppers are in progress on the High Plains, and in the Rio Grande Valley, cabbage planting has begun. Land preparation has been delayed due to rains.

National Broiler Show Set

Texas youths can raise chickens and crow all the way to Kansas City this fall.

The Second Annual National Junior Dressed Broiler Show sponsored by Kentucky Fried Chicken will be held in Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 15-20, announces Dr. William O. Cawley, poultry specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Sevice. The event is a part of the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show and Rodeo.

The broiler show is open to youngsters between the ages of 9 and 19 who are members of bonafide youth organizations such as 4-H, Future Farmers, and Boy Scouts.

Nearly $3,000 in prize money will be divided among the top 50 entries in the contest, with the grade and reserve champions each receiving $300. In addition, the top 10 entries will be sold at public auction. Last year's grand champion was sold to Col. Harland Sanders for $5,000.

"Each contestant may have two four-bird entries," says Cawley. "Time for starting the chicks is approaching since they must be hatched after Sept. 14. It's essential that contestants start their chicks as soon after that date as possible," the specialist emphasizes.

Cawley urges those interested in participating in the National Junior Dressed Broiler Show to contact their local county Extension office.

Ranchers Report Tick Problems

By Bill McCutchen

Ranchers are reporting heavy infestations of the Gulf coast ear tick "Gotch ear tick" particularly in pastures with heavy brush. This tick has been labeled the "Gotch ear tick" because the flesh deteriorates around the tick. This tick has been the cause of most of the screwworm cases along the coast and parts of south Texas.

The Gulf Coast ear tick unlike the Spinose ear tick, usually attaches himself to the inner or outer tip of the ear. He is easily controlled with Co-Ral dust, Lindane aerosal, Malathion spray, Rounel aerosol or smear, or Toxaphine liquid or smear. The problem is with retreatment. Spraying must be continued at about 2 week intervals throughout the tick season to keep these insects in check.

Dr. John Thomas, extension entomologist, informed me that a new method of controlling this tick up to 6 months has proven effective. This is with the use of ear bands and ear tags treated with Durban. Costs of the band and tag run about $1.25 per ear. That's rathe costly but if the problem is bad it could save several applications and a lot of handling.

Wheat Planting

It's time to start thinking about planting wheat again and one of the most important decisions you will make if you are planting wheat is the variety.

If you are looking for a #2 hard wheat that will yield well and receive little dockage, Sturdy or Caprock have been the best producers in demonstrations on the Reeves Brown farm near Cameron.

If you are considering a soft wheat for grazing and grain production Coker 68-15 has been an outstanding choice. It has good rust resistance and can usually be counted on to produce at least 5 bushels more per acre than the best hard wheats.

For many producers these traits will outweight the 45¢ per bushel dock that they are quite likely to get with Coker 68-15.

The hybrid varieties have not yet proven their worth in this country. They have not yielded as yet with Sturdy and are more expensive to plant.

Cotton Report

Trading for the week ending Sept. 3 was active, reports J. B. Russ, officer in charge, Austin Classing Office. According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, growers receive 68 to 70 cents per pound for cotton grading better than 41, and1 65 an 68 cents per pound for light spotted and some spotted cotton with micronaire readings in the desirable range of 3.5 to 4.9.

Pastures Should Be Fertilized Now

Perennial grass pastures should be fertilized now for increased fall production and quality. If pastures have not been fertilized since spring, plant nutrients--especially nitrogen--have been depleted. So an application of fertilizer is in order, contends Al Novosad, forage and turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"There is still plenty of growing time over much of the state for good production from bermuda, klein, buffel, love, bahia, and other grasses," says Novosad. "Forage from these grasses can be utilized for grazing or hay or left standing and grazed after frost."

Of course, the specialist points out that soil moisture must be available for grass growth. Rainfall records from 34 stations in the western two-thirds of Texas over a 40-year period indicate a 50 to 80 percent chance of receiving two inches of rainfall in September. This probability of rainfall increases moving from west to east. About the same probability also exists for October.

The probability for two inches of rain in both September and October is about the same as for a like amount in June for this area of Texas and is better than the probabilities for July and August, notes Novosad.

"Since most of the state enjoys a long growing season for the perennial warm season grasses, fall fertilization is important. Lack of fertilization is the big limiting factor to quality forage production in the fall," believes Novosad.

There is still plenty of time to make top quality hay, and Novosad reminds producers that the 1976 State Hay Show is coming up Oct. 1 on the Harold Green farm near Austin. All hay samples must be submitted to the Travis County Extension office by Sept. 15.

Cull Low Producing Livestock

Detecting and culling low-producing cows is the first step in increasing beef herd productivity. Cows that do not wean a calf every 12 months can no longer be retained due to sentiment--they are too costly, says Dr. John Spitzer, are beef cattle specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Along with culling low producers, cattlemen should also be aware that summer calves wean at much lighter weights than calves born at other times of the year. This makes a strong case for removing slow breedingcows, even for the cattleman with an extended calving program," points out Spitzer.

The specialist suggests removing bulls no later than Aug. 20 and having cows palpated for pregnancy 40-60 days after this date. By keeping calving dates on cows, a producer will know if the cow bred back tocalve within the 12-month interval. Any cow not meeting this requirement should be culled. Cows normally calving in the summer months can be held open with little or no loss in total pounds of calf weaned.

"Return the bulls to the cows by Dec. 1 to get summer and fall calving cows bred for next summer. This will end the1977 calving season the latter part of May and it will not resume until September," notes Spitzer.

A cattleman can move his cow herd into a controlled, spring or fall, calving program by gradually removing the bulls earlier and leaving them out longer. In some situations it may be desirable to calve both spring and fall, but neithe calving season should extend for more than 60 days, contends the specialist.

"Pregnancy diagnosis is the key to making this system work," believes Spitzer.

Conserving Energy Is Program Topic

By Chris Holcombe

Being patriotic today now includes saving energy. Energy includes saving energy. Energy shortages and pollution from excessive energy use are the subject of heightened notice in the media and by all levels of government. "Wise-Up--Tighten Up" is the topic dealing with ways to save on energy consumption in your own home and is the topic of one of the series of three programs that will be held in Gause and Davilla during September and early October.

The first program in the "You Can Do It" series will be held Sept. 13 at 8 p.m. at the Gause Community Center. The subject of this program will be "What's Afoot In Floor Care." The same program will be presented at the Davilla Community Center on the Bartlett Road on Sept. 16 at 8 p.m.

The second program to be presented will be "Repairs for Plaster Walls" and "Paint Selection." This will be held at the Gause Community Center on Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. and at the Davilla Community Center on Sept. 30 at 8 p.m.

The third and final program will be held on "Weatherizing Your Home and Energy Costs." This program will be presented at the Gause Community Center at 8 p.m. on Sept. 27 and at the Davilla Community Center at 8 p.m. on Oct. 7.

These programs are open to anyone in the county that is interested and are free of charge. For more information contact our office.

Shredded carrots, diced celery, and sliced stuffed olives prepared with lime flavor Jell-O Gelatin in this recipe make a refreshing combination of food textures and flavors, and complement most seafood entrees, as well.

Fiesta Salad

1 package (3 oz.) lemon or lime flavor gelatin
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
¾ cup cold water
2 teaspoons vinegar
1 cup shredded carrots
¼ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons sliced olives

Paintings To Be Exhibited At TJC

Twenty paintings from the 65th annual Texas Fine Arts Association Exhibition are on display through Sept. 22 in the Fine Arts Building at Temple Junior College.

The touring exhibit is part of the TFAA annual exhibition which opened last spring at Laguna Gloria Art Museum in Austin. The exhibit of 125 paintings is now touring as eight traveling shows. There were more than 3,000 entries for the exhibition which was juried by Clinton Adams of the University of New Mexico; Lamar Dodd of the University of Georgia; and William Lester of the University of Texas.

The exhibit includes works in a variety of media. "This is a very diverse exhibit and I think there is something in it to please everyone," J. Bryant Reeves, TJC Fine Arts Division director said. "The quality of the show is really outstanding."

The exhibit includes watercolors, oils, acrylics, drawings, and mixed media. Artists from 10 states are represented in the show.

College Notes

Mark Edward Hensley of Cameron was awarded a Bachelor or Arts degree in the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences at The University of Texas at the end of the summer session.

Vows Unite Blake-Williams

Mary Elizabeth Blake and Lawrence Eastland Williams were united in marriage at 2 p.m. August 14 in the First United Methodist Church of Cameron.

Stands of white gladiolas and candlebras with white votive candles formed a background for the ceremony performed by Rev. Stanley Vodicka. Mrs. Hilliard Thomas presented traditional wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene F. Blake of Cameron, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Williams of Houston.

MR. & MRS. LAWRENCE WILLIAMS

The bride wore a white linen gown designed by Christos for Galina. The sleeveless gown was enhanced with faggoting detail and Venise lace applique. Lace accented the yoke, band collerette, and the modified princess silhouette of the skirt and chapel train. A matching Venice headpiece fashioned from the face held the full long tier of French silk illusion that fell over the gown and beyond the length of the train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Nancy McLaine of Corpus Christi attended her cousin as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susan Williams of Houston, sister of the groom; Philomena Blackard of San Marcos, and Becky Marek of Cameron. The bride's attendants wore identical gowns of pale green voile by Bianchi of Boston and matching green straw picture hats. They carried bouquets of Sonia roses.

Albert Nauman of San Marcos served as best man. Groomsmen were Jay Williams of Houston, brother of the groom; Robert Chapman of San Marcos, and Gerald Ford of Houston.

Serving as ushers were Glenn F. Blake of Wichita, Kan. and Kenneth G. Blake of Ponca City, Okla., brothers of the bride; Robert W. McLain of Corpus Christi, cousin of the bride; and Douglas Wager of Seabrook.

Brad Blake of Witchita, Kan., nephew of the bride, was candle lighter.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

A massive bouquet of cut flowers in pastel shades and silver candelabra holding white tapers centered the bride's table where punch, a four-tier wedding cake, and tea sandwiches were served. Assisting at the table were Marlene Blake of Witchita, Kan. and Sharon Blake of Ponca City, Okla., sisters-in-law of the bride, and Marcella Ritter of Houston, the bride's cousin.

A tall arrangement of bronze mums centered the groom's table where LeAnna Williams of Houston and Courtney McLain of Corpus Christi served coffee and cake. Appointments at the groom's table were of brass.

Mrs. Douglas Wager of Seabrook registered guests. Other members of the house party were Mrs. Dana Kestenbaum and Mrs. D. R. Dodson of Cameron.

Mrs. Tommy Corley of Cameron provided background music for the reception.

The bride attended South-West Texas State Teachers University, Texas A&M University, and is presently a senior at The University of Texas where she is majoring in aquatic biology. The groom also attended SWST, Texas A&M, and is a geology major at The University of Texas.

Following a wedding trip to the Bahamas, the couple will make their home in Austin.

Baptists Adopt Missions Goal

DALLAS

Texans won't be likely to forget the goal for this year's State Missions Offering by the 4,400 churches of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The goal is $1,776,019.76 -not only a reminder of the bicentennial year (1776-1976) but also by far the biggest goal ever for the annual Mary Hill Davis Offering for State Missions.

The figure is 43.86 percent above last year's, with the increase planned to finance a $675,000 mass media campaign known as "Good News Texas."

Leaders of the state's 2.2 million member denomination are planning the 1977 campaign to saturate Texas with the Christian gospel through newspapers, radio, television, and billboards. Executive Director James H. Landes calls it the most innovative evangelistic program by Texas Baptists in this century.

In addition, the offering will support programs to help people living along the Rio Grande River, scholarships for Latin American and Black students, establishment of new churches, assistance to churches in changing neighborhoods, and missions projects for retired persons.

Sept. 12-18 has been set aside as a "Week of Prayer for State Missions." Sunday, Sept. 26, will be Ingathering Day for actual giving of the offering.

The offering is named for early Texas women's worker Mary Hill Davis. This year's theme is "Free! Because He Lives."

Texas A&M Has New Department

Texas A&M University has a new Department of Horticultural Sciences as of Sept. 1

Dr. Warren S. Barham is professor and head of the new department, announced Dean of Agriculture Dr. H. O. Kunkel. Barham has been director of raw material research and onion seed production of Basic Vegetable Products located in California and is also chairman of the national committee on liaison between industry and society with the American Horticulture Society. He was previously an associate professor of horticulture at North Carolina State University for nine years.

Horticulture has been offered through the Department of Soil and Crop Sciences since 1959. Texas A&M officials say the demand for graduates in horticulture has expanded rapidly from 59 students five years ago to an estimated fall enrollment of more than 500.

The responsbilities of the new department will include the supervision and coordination of Experiment Station and Extension Service activities as well as the instructional program. The department will have a research loan of more than $400,000 at College Station and program leadership of more than $2 million in research located at centers throughout Texas.

Two degree programs will be offered in horticulture and floriculture. These programs include the use, propagation, marketing and selling of edible crops and ornamental plants. Students are trained in nursery and greenhouse production along with the retail florist business.

New Botany Prof Scheduled For UT

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — The University of Texas will become the center for algae research in the U.S. when a new member of the botany faculty arrives in September.

Dr. Richard C. Starr will bring with him from Indiana University a collection of algae he has developed over 20 years. The collection is considered among the five greatest of its kind in the world.

The botanist, recently elected to the National Academy of Sciences, is known for his work on classifying soil algae and on the genetics of one-celled green algae found in freshwater ponds.

The Lonely Heart

Group Breaks Ground For CBN Center

Pat Robertson, president of the Christian Broadcasting Network, Inc., and host of the 700 Club, a Christian television broadcast which has a potential of reaching two-thirds of the people in the United States, and his associates, broke ground recently for the CBN International Communications Center at Virginia Beach, Vir.

This is a complex dedicated to the education of people all over the world in the word of God. After graduation, the students will take the gospel back home to "tell the good news."

Pat also surprised the Wayne Pembertons of Cameron with the knowledge of a "Pemberton School of Communications" to be built, which will include a dormitory, and be patterned after the Governor's Mansion, in Richmond, Vir.

Sept. 17, the first broadcast of its kind will be on television via satelite--proclaiming the gospel around the world.

The bald eagle, a noble bird, emblem of America.

And yet it was not the choice of Benjamin Franklin, one of our wisest patriots.

To emphasize the differences between the world's first democracy and the warlike, aristocratic powers of Europe, Franklin chose the docile turkey, so common to America—instead of a bird of prey—to symbolize the United States.

But the eagle, long a sign of courage, freedom and power, caught the fancy of Franklin's fellow patriots gathered at Philadelphia in 1787.

To them "noble" meant more than hereditary rank.

Noble also meant "an exalted moral character, admirable in conception, stately"—all qualities epitomizing the democratic experiment called the United States.

And to this day the United States strives to retain that noble character symbolized by its emblem, embodied by its spiritual heritage.

THESE FIRMS AND INDIVIDUALS ARE SEASON LONG YOEMEN SUPPORTERS

Burton To Quarterback

Yoemen To Tangle With 2-A State Champions

State defending champs LaGrange will be looking for their first season win as they try to rebuild their '76 team with the remnants of that 14-1 season last year.

LaGrange will return 4 offensive and 6 defensive regulars this year and have repeated the season opener as they did last year by loosing to Bellville.

Leading the publicity spotlight for the Leopards is the do it all offensive center and defensive linebacker Bert Vasut (6'2-215). Vasut was All State offensively and defensively from that state champion team.

Also returning for the Leopards is the All Central Texas receiver Billy Dunk. One important element that is missing from that state winning team is quarterback Kenny Hatfield.

LaGrange's defensive line will average 195 pounds across the front and 159 pounds in the secondary. Four of the defensive players won honors last season.

LaGrange will line up in a 5-2 defense with a rover. Against Bellville last week the Leopards held the Bellville offense to 139 yards rushing.

The defensive variations will include slants from the interior defensive line and the Leopards will stunt.

The offensive line for the Leopards will average 194 pounds in the interior line and 160 in the backfield.

LaGrange will like to throw in certain situations and will have the personnel to do an effective job. From their basic I formation the Leopards will run the power alleys and up the middle.

Last week against Bellville the Leopards had difficulty in executing their pitch pay that brought them to the state playoffs last season. The offense has four option plays to run.

For the Yoemen Bobby Burton will be guiding the Yoe offense according to Coach Ed Cauley.

Cauley said, "I want to be settled on a quarterback by district play. I have only seen Burton in one scrimmage and I want to give him another good look."

There will be no other main changes in the Yoemen lineup according to Cauley.

Both teams will be in search of a win. Neither team won last week and the Leopards were downed by Bellville 24-13. Kick-off time has been scheduled for 8 p.m. at Yoe Field.

FORREST GUESS

TOSS UP. . .

Sometimes they are called sister-kissers, stalemates, stand-offs and a lot more... But everyone must agree a 0-0 tie doesn't tell a whole lot.

Some ties can be considered more of a win. And then at times, like Friday night it might be more of a 'we should have won't tie.

What ever the case, the '76 Yoemen exhibited a fine defense and at times a pretty good offense. But the ability to have that extra punch to put it over for a touchdown was absent.

For the Yoemen there will be an element of surprise. The extra will come with time and with experience. Putting together a fine offensive machine takes time.

Fine opponents such as the 3A teams, Taylor and Belton and 2A state defending champs LaGrange will offer the Yoemen tough competition to test all areas of their game plan. Not to mention 4A Austin Crockett in the final scrimmage.

It will take time for the Yoemen to show the form of 2 years past. But it's not hard to remember how fast a Cauley coached team seems to gel into a quarter-finalist team.

To discount the Yoemen would be a gross error and misjudgement on anyone's part. . .

CROWDS. . .

The element of surprise and interest in the '76 Yoemen brought out as fine of crowd as the past year when the Yoemen were ranked #1.

This is unusual for a town to back a team as well in the years that the team is not favored in district competition.

A full house was a strong indication that the town's people are aware of the potential of this team. And what is in store for District 23-AA.

A sell out last Friday and a sell out is expected again this Friday as the Yoemen tangle with the LaGrange Leopards.

Let's not forget about that the Leopards are the 2A state defending champs and will bring their share of backers.

Let's back the Yoemen again this week---

BANNER. . .

A Yoe High Band banner was donated to the school last Friday night during pre-game ceremonies by the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schiller.

The banner was presented in honor of the late Francis Cox.

The banner was designed by band director Jerry Bartley and will be on display at the band hall according to Bartley.

Mr. Schiller complimented band director Jerry Bartley and Gary Beach for their outstanding work and their fine band programs.

The banner will be used during out-of-town parades as well as displayed at ballgames at different times throughtout the season.

CAULEY SAID. . .

"We didn't win, but we didn't lose. Our defense has really improved. Our offense just wasn't consistant enough to win.

"We continued to make silly mistakes and we stopped ourselves most of the time. We just had little things go wrong, penalties, dropped footballs, mental breakdowns and missed assignments.

"All night we couldn't find anything we could do consistantly and at times we would do one thing real well and then go back to it and miss an assignment.

"We have an interesting schedule ahead of us. We could be playing weak teams and accumulate a good pre-season record. But I feel this isn't the way you get better.

"Playing teams like Taylor, LaGrange, and Belton is a good way to get yourself ready for tough district battles.

"We will get better -- and these are salty teams that we are playing. We have scheduled some tough folks to deal with.

"LaGrange brings back their entire interior line and their center Vasult is All State offense and defense his junior year.

"They aren't as quick as we are and they will be coming back from a loss from last Friday night against Bellville. Last year LaGrange lost to Bellville and turned around and won the state championship.

"Next four weeks are going to be a test for us. I don't feel embarrassed about our game against Taylor.

"We are playing the 2A state champs and our folks have the right attitude and will do a good job against them. I hope we have a full crowd Friday night to back them."

OJ Thomas Splits Wins With Taylor

O. J. Thomas Junior High football officially opened last Thursday against the Taylor Ducks and the seventh grade scored an 8-0 win while the eighth grade team settled with a sister-kisser, 0-0.

With impressive organization the seventh grade Young Yoemen tallied 101 total yards in their winning efforts with 90 yards coming from their ground game and 11 from the air.

Taylor seventh grade rushed for 39 yards and from the air gained the bulk with 63 yards.

The Young Yoemen TD came in the closing quarter when #40 Jeff Boutwell had clear sailing from 22 yards out on a first and 10 from the Taylor 22.

Boutwell was the leading yard gainer with an impressive 75 yards in 10 carries. Bill Huffman gained 13 yards.

Quarterback Rufus Floyd attempted three passes and completed one to Jeff Mondrik for 11 yards.

Bill Huffman was in the defensive spotlight with the most unassisted tackles and recovered one fumble for the winning effort.

Having a hard act to follow the eighth graders found a tough Taylor defense to contend with. But the defensive effort by the Ducks was second to the fine defensive play by the eighth grade Young Yoemen.

The Young Yomen held the Taylor offense to only 2 first downs in 36 minutes of football. One of the first downs occured on a penalty.

The Young Yoemen offense gained 150 yards on the ground and were unable to complete any yards from their passing game.

The Taylor eighth grade was held to only 88 yards in their offensive efforts. Taylor's Chris Smith led their ground attack with 48 yards rushing. Reggie Hill followed with 29 yards.

For the Young Yoemen Rusty Crummer rolled up 118 yards on the turf for one of the finest offensive ground gainers in OJT history.

Jasper Harden followed Crummer with 28 yards.

William Harwell and Casey Stanislaw both recovered fumbles for the Young Yoemen.

OJT footballers will be off this week due to a La Grange school policy that doesn't allow the junior high team to travel long distances.

Both tennis and golf—those two popular American sports—were hardly heard of a hundred years ago. Tennis was brought to the United States in 1874, and the first golf course in America was laid out in 1888.

Yoe Band To Begin Magazine Sale

Thursday, September 9, will mark the opening day to start the Yoe High School band's annual magazine campaign.

The Quality School Plan Company (owned by Reader's Digest) will once again sponsor the drive.

"This company," band director Jerry Bartley states, "is the largest magazine sales company in the world, and we feel they are very dependable."

The "QSP" Company handles the largest selection of magazines that the public reads. Each band student will carry a brochure with magazine titles and prices as they call on the Cameron and surrounding citizens starting September 9.

The band's profit is 40% and will be used to help pay expenses next spring to an out - of - town competition.

Bartley reminds the buyers to contact him if the magazines fail to be delivered within sixty days after the sale.

Anyone not receiving magazines from last year will need to have the band student taking the magazine order to write the word "complaint" across the subscription; there will be no charge to have the magazine sent to the buyer again.

Cards Take Bryan, 13-12

The Cameron Cards defeated the Bryan Astex Sunday in the tenth inning to take a 13 to 12 victory.

Cameron took an early 12 to 1 lead but Bryan came back on six Cardinal errors to tie the game at 12 to 12 and sent the game into extra innings.

With two out in the top of the tenth inning Kenneth Scott walked, then stole second and got to third on a wild pitch.

Tony Mendoza came up and slapped a base hit between third and short to knock in the winning run.

Mendoza also hit a grand slam home run and was the winning pitcher.

TSTI Grant Approved For Water Treatment Research

WACO

Texas Water Quality Board (TWQB) announced Friday a $12,000 grant for the water-wastewater program at Texas State Technical Institute to continue research on a wastewater purification process that could help Texas cities comply with stringent federal standards set to go into effect in 1980.

Contract stipulations require grant money to be used before Sept. 1, 1977.

Ken Bird, chairman of the wastewater program at TSTI, was named project director and TWQB regional director Joe Morgan was chosen as consultant.

Project work will be conducted by Robbie Potts and Bradley Peyton, TSTI graduates who began researching and developing a closed oxidation pond six months ago.

Government regulations set to go into effect in 1980 required that there be no more than one gallon of waste per 30 million gallons of wastewtare put into streams and rivers after purification.

Bird said cities using the oxidation pond system have been faced with the possibility of having to spread "hundreds of thousands of dollars" to construct chemical ponds that would eliminate enough wastes.

Construction of the process developed by Peyton and Potts, technically known as "low-lumen quiescent sedimentation process," would cost about $50,000--depending on the amount of wastewater to be purified.

More than 450 towns in Texas, mostly smaller ones with populations around 5,000 utilize the oxidation pond system--a process where wastes are elimiated by bacteria that are spawned from algae grown in the pond.

"The only other processes available to these towns," Bird said, "are expensive and use a lot of energy. Our system is relatively inexpensive and, more importantly, uses practically no energy."

Potts and Peyton inadvertently discovered the process while sampling wastewater for special problems course they were taking. The men noticed one day that solid wastes dropped to the bottom of the simulated pond when not exposed to the elements, especially the sun which which draws wastes to the surface.

"The men found the water much cleaner in the enclosed tank because there was no rain and wind to stir up the water. More wastes drop to the tank's bottom than would be drawn to the top by the sun. Then,' it's just a process of removing the bottomlayer of wastewater, which the men have found leaves the water 95 percent clean," Bird explained.

There may soon be a viable use for that waste, Bird said.

"There is a high level of protein within that waste which i s removed. If the drain on available food supplies continues to increase as it has, people of the world will have to depend on other sources of protein.

"Already a feedlot in Lubbock is using solid waste to feed cattle. Four thousand pounds of algae and other components in the waste removed from purified water is three times as nutritious as beef. We already know that in the same are it takes for a cow to subsist we can produce 20 tons of protein organically," Bird said.

But the major obstacle in using organic elements in manufacturing protein remains to solidify the matter --something which has escaped scientists for some time.

Peyton and Potts recently applied for a patent, Bird said, but it often takes as long as a year for one to be approved or disapproved.

"Our process, if indeed it proves successful, will help cities keep down sewer rates that are going to go sky-high when federal regulations go into effect in 1980," Bird said.

Payne Theatre To Seat 500 At UT

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A new 500-seat theater nearing completion in a $4.5-million addition to The University of Texas Drama Building will bear the name of one of the Drama Department's most illustrious faculty members — B. Iden Payne.

Professor Payne, an internationally known Shakespearean director who taught at UT Austin from 1946 until he retired in 1973, died April 6. The Payne Theater will be opened in the fall with a Shakespearean production in his memory.

Earlier this year, Mr. Payne was made an Honorary Officer of the Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth II.

"And they shall sit every man under his own vine and his own fig tree." • Micah 4:4

The prophet understood that all basic human rights are dependent on what is sometimes referred to as "property rights." It doesn't take much imagination to see that if people are deprived of the right to own and use property, all other rights they might claim can be easily taken away.

The entire American system of free enterprise is based on the elemental human right to own and use such property as his ability and inclination allow him to acquire. And it works. This radical, new concept was used by the American people to create the highest standard of living in the history of the world.

Yet, because nothing in this world works perfectly, there are those who would scrap the free enterprise system, and return to the old system under which a man's right to own property is restricted and controlled. This old system has been tried and found to consistently fail throughout world history.

Ralph Wilson Plastics Company has faith in the American system of free enterprise. This system has produced a better way of life — more and better jobs — than any system yet devised. We're proud to be a part of it.

This is #1 in a series of messages on "the free enterprise system" to be brought to you by Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, manufacturers of Wilson Art Brand laminated plastic and other products of quality and value for the building industry.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes."

"Laughing is the sensation of feeling good all over, and showing it principally in one spot." Josh Billings

CCAF To Award College Degrees

The Community College of the Air Force (CCAF) has been granted authority to award associate degrees for college level study.

Award of the degrees is contingent upon the Commissioner of the U. S. Office of Education certifying that the Community College of the Air Force meets the same standards as civilian schools now offering them. Certification is expected by mid-1977.

Activiated on April 1, 1972 at Randolph Air Force Base, Tex., CCAF is the first institution established especially to meet the educational and career development needs of enlisted members of the military. It is a fully accredited, occupationally-oriented, multi-campus institution offering career education programs at the associate level.

Foundation OKs Grant For Baylor

A $150,000 grant and intent of a second such grant to Baylor University has been approved by the trustees of the Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich.

Foundation President William H. Baldwin announced approval of the grant toward the restoration of Burleson Quadrangle and construction of a new academic facility on the university's Waco campus.

"It is the intention of the trustees," Baldwin told Baylor President Abner V. McCall, "if conditions warrant, to authorize a second grant of $150,000 in January 1977, for the same purpose." The grants are conditioned upon Baylor having completed the financing of the construction project.
